LEADS TO STRATEGIC CUSTOMER ACQUISITIONS

Kadant Solutions, located in Auburn, Massachusetts, develops various products to improve process performance in different industry verticals. With a highlighted focus on acquiring new business with food processing companies, Kadant Solutions was looking for new strategies to gain audience with some of the largest cereal manufacturers in the world, allowing for easier access to key decision makers. For their sales team members, their WorkJet™ self-cleaning assemblies, engineered to be food safe, provide food processing plants with better process manufacturing and less down time for maintenance, creating a more profitable process for Kadant Solutions customers.
